CITY HOSTS VIRTUAL OPEN HOUSE ON 4TH AVE CULTURAL CORRIDOR

Reinvention of Key Downtown Street to Be Discussed

(Edmonds, WA) – For more than a decade, the City, residents, and business and property owners along Fourth Avenue North between Main Street and the Edmonds Center for the Arts have been discussing a reinvention of that important corridor to create a more pleasant, safer and more attractive pedestrian experience and a unique destination within Downtown Edmonds.

The community has been very supportive of creating a special, arts-infused experience. More recently, they've worked together more to develop overarching goals and design objectives.

Now it's time to share concepts with the public.

Join your neighbors and other community members Monday, Aug. 24 at 6 pm for an update and discussion about concepts that could shape the future of the 4th Avenue Cultural Corridor. Your public input will help identify a preferred concept and define most-preferred elements.

All residents, businesses, and property owners along 4th Avenue are invited to this virtual community open house which will include a presentation and Q & A led by City representatives and urban design consultant CREA Affiliates.
